One of the things I love about living in Michigan is the different seasons. Each one carries its own beauty—spring flowers, summer warmth, fall foliage, winter snowscapes—along with its challenges: freezing temperatures, blistering heat, overcast skies, and slippery roads.

Scripture affirms that it is God who “changes the times and seasons” (Dan. 2:21). This is true not only in nature but also in the shifting seasons of our lives.

One season may bring the joy of welcoming a newborn baby, celebrating a wedding or anniversary, completing a degree, starting a new job, or enjoying good health. Other seasons may include waves of sorrow, brought on, perhaps, by chronic illness, infertility, financial loss, broken relationships, the death of a loved one . . .

The pages of this volume are intended to remind us that each season—whether marked by joy and abundance or by adversity and tears—is an opportunity to give thanks for the goodness and unfailing love of God and to trust Him for tailor-made grace for each hardship and trial.

May you experience fresh springs of beauty, joy, and peace
as you cling to Christ in this and every season.

DAY ONE

Every Season
of womanhood is an opportunity to display the beauty of Christ.

There is an occasion for everything,
and a time for every activity under heaven.

DAY SIX

Day after day, night after night, year after year,
season after season,
God is faithful.

Because of the LORD's faithful love
we do not perish,
for his mercies never end.
They are new every morning;
great is your faithfulness!
—LAMENTATIONS 3:22–23

DAY SEVEN

God delights

in our faithful obedience in the ordinary moments—
these are the moments
when beauty is grown in our lives.

Commit your way to the LORD;
trust in him, and he will act,
making your righteousness shine like the dawn,
your justice like the noonday.

—PSALM 37:5–6

DAY ELEVEN

Every stage of life is an opportunity to pour God's beauty and truth into others,
leaving a legacy that endures
beyond our own season.

Older women are to . . . teach what is good.

—TITUS 2:3
