Calling Women to Freedom, Fullness, and Fruitfulness in Christ

Return to a Place of Quiet Rest

If you were to draw a picture of your daily devotional life, would it look more like a well-watered garden or a neglected plot in need of tending?

In her book A Place of Quiet Rest, Nancy DeMoss Wolgemuth describes a season when deadlines, projects, and demands had crowded out her time with the Lord. She still had a quiet time of sorts, but it had come to consist of hurriedly reading a short passage of Scripture just before running out the door. She reflected,

I was having my devotions, if you could call it that. But I wasn't having devotion. I wasn't meeting with God. I wasn't nurturing our relationship. Like the young bride depicted in the Song of Solomon, I had tended the "vineyards" of others but had failed to care for the garden of my own heart (Song 1:6). As God used circumstances to reveal my malnourished spiritual condition, I began to realize what a price I had paid for those months of neglect.

How grateful I am for a merciful, long-suffering heavenly Father who never stops pursuing a love relationship with His children. Graciously, kindly, He wooed my heart that had become distracted and desensitized to Him. His goodness led me to repent of having wandered so far from His side, to renew my vows to Him, and to reestablish my relationship with Him as the number-one priority of my day. . . .

There have been other lapses in my devotion to Christ in the years since. But each time the Lord has been faithful to renew my longing for Him and restore my soul. . . . My heart's desire is to hold fast to Him and not to let Him go—to experience unbroken fellowship with Him and to make a conscious, deliberate choice to spend time alone with Him each day.<sup>1</sup>

If some time has passed since you've lingered with the Lord, consider this your invitation to slip away with Him today and spend time in His Word—not out of guilt or duty but because He's still the One your soul loves.

I have read A Place of Quiet Rest two times now, and it has changed my life! I was saved at twenty-five but discovered I didn't really have an intimate relationship with the Lord Jesus. I thought, I want that kind of relationship! Now I have it! —“Rebekah”

Igniting a Global Passion for God's Word

PRAYERS FOR THE TRUE WOMAN '25 LIVESTREAM

For the first time ever, the True Woman '25 livestream will be available in five languages—English, French, German, Portuguese, and Spanish. We're eager to see how God will use this event—as well as the Wonder of the Word initiative—to ignite a global passion for His life-giving, transforming Word.

Here's how women from our international ministries are praying for the Lord to move:

We at ANC have been reading the Bible from cover to cover with our audience every year since 2020. As we continue reading the Bible together with our audience, now with Nancy in Wonder of the Word, my prayer is that a deep, lasting revival will be ignited by the work of the Spirit.

Laura Gonzalez, Director of Aviva Nuestros Corazones (ROH in Spanish)

My prayer for Portuguese-speaking women is that their hearts would be tender to the Word of God—that they would not only hear it but truly surrender to it.

Denise Deal, Editor at Aviva Nossos Corações (ROH in Portuguese)

My prayer is that women will be receptive and that hearts will be changed, developing a long-lasting thirst for God's Word.

Rachel Denis, Content Manager for Réveille Nos Coeurs (ROH in French)

My deepest longing is that God would instill a fresh hunger for His Word, not only here in post-Christian Europe but around the world.

Sabine Ross, Chief Editor for Belebe unsere Herzen (ROH in German)
